

Can one banking platform serve millions of customers?

Erste Bank's Core Banking Platform, Europe

Free trade and open markets led Europe's leading retail bank, Erste Bank to search for innovative ways to serve its 15 million customers. It requires a solution to provide centralised services while supporting multi-currency, multi-language international banking requirements.

When the Erste Bank Group wanted a comprehensive and scalable banking platform capable of handling growing transaction volume, they chose to collaborate with a Singapore-based infocomm company, SunGard System Access.

With a solid track record in delivering results, our Infocomm Singapore companies have innovative infocomm solutions and domain expertise to unlock opportunities for governments and businesses. More than that, we have improved the way people live, work and play. Infocomm Singapore, Innovations In Action.
